ABOUT THE PROGRAM

It has been 20 years since the Delaware Court of Chancery began wrestling with this famous case and its powerful players in an action that centered on a corporate board's decision to approve a $140 million dollar severance to the company's outgoing President, Michael Ovitz. At issue here were numerous corporate law questions involving bad faith, board oversight, and equity. Reassembled for this anniversary series seminar are many of the players who debated the issues and tried to avoid the intense media attention, including the Chancellor who wrote the opinion, a justice who heard the appeal, and most of the original party counsel to discuss the history of this case, the thoughts behind the opinions and what Disney's impact on corporate law has been.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS:

- Factual Setting and Legal Issues; Threshold Motion Practice, and the First Appeal
- 220 Proceedings, the Amended Complaint, Discovery, the Trial, and the Post-Trial Opinion
- Appeal Opinion, Post-Decision Assessment, and Long-Term Impact

Sponsored by the Delaware State Bar Association
